Managing the Media in a Crisis Workshop (half day)
9.00am – 12.30pm

Every crisis is unique but no matter what industry you are in how the media report the crisis follows a predictable pattern. Forewarned is forearmed, so this practical and interactive workshop drills down into best practice in responding to media in a crisis.

Bring your crisis communication plan to life and learn the principles of dealing with the media when a crisis hits – the questions journalists ask, the information they need and techniques of highly successful crisis spokespeople.

The workshop includes practical tools and frameworks showcased in dvd case studies including the Queensland Floods, BP Oil spill and the Qantas A380 engine failure.

You will learn:

- > What really drives the media in a crisis
- > The stages of a crisis and how the media report each stage
- > Planning for each stage of a crisis
- > Crisis spokesperson techniques
- > Tactics and techniques for handling hostile questions
- > How to maintain integrity in the firing line and how to expect the unexpected
- > When and how to deliver a compelling apology

About the presenter

Geoffrey Stackhouse,
Managing Director,
Clarity Solutions

Geoffrey Stackhouse is the managing director of Clarity Solutions, a specialist media training company working equipping executives with the skills and techniques they need to face the media spotlight.

He is a seasoned journalist with more than 25 years experience. Geoffrey reported on Corporate Australia in publications like BRW, Company Director, The Sydney Morning Herald and many others.

His practical and strategic approach to media has been honed by experience in internal corporate and public affairs roles with leading Banks and Financial institutions. He has also worked at Director level for Hill and Knowlton and other consulting firms.

Geoffrey works across Australia and throughout the region delivering media and crisis training, to leading Corporates as well as Federal and State Governments.

Organisational Resilience Workshop (full day)
9.00am – 5.00pm

No organisation can predict precisely the disruptive challenges it might encounter. Organisations need to be flexible and able to adapt to major changes in their operating context or environment, not only to survive but, potentially, to thrive. The term 'resilience' is used increasingly to describe how organisations can continue to meet their key organisational objectives when faced by major disruptive challenges and events.

Resilience is not simply a plan, or a checklist. The capacity of resilience is found in an organisation's culture, attitudes and values.

In creating appropriate knowledge, culture, attitudes and values, an organisation builds its capacity to survive the turbulence created by low frequency and high consequence risks.

This one day interactive Organisational Resilience workshop will provide participants with an awareness and understanding of:

- > Current concepts in organisational resilience research and practice
- > The key properties that support resilient organisations
- > Case studies that demonstrate the qualities of resilient organisations
- > Practical resilience tools and techniques

About the presenter

Peter Brouggy,
Project Manager,
Banking and Finance Infrastructure
Assurance Advisory Group

Peter Brouggy has worked within the IT industry for the past 30 years and held senior management positions for the Australian Mutual Provident Society (AMP) and the Australian Stock Exchange (ASX).

For the past four years Peter has been employed by the Banking and Finance Infrastructure Assurance Advisory Group (BFAG) as a Project Manager.

In his capacity as BFAG Project Manager, Peter's focus is on crisis management and business continuity related activities across the Australian banking and finance sector.

His duties have included developing and coordinating several sector wide desktop discussion exercises including a rolling six week pandemic exercise, developing a banking and finance sector resilience assessment and developing a sector wide crisis communications plan.

Australasian Business Continuity Summit 2011

The Australasian Business Continuity Summit 2011 is the principal annual business continuity conference in Australia and New Zealand. The Summit combines two conference days, Wednesday 8th and Thursday 9th June, followed by Workshops on Friday 10th June. The Summit is jointly organised by the Business Continuity Institute Australasian Chapter and Continuity Forum.

The Summit is planned by subject matter experts to combine diverse presenters and topical subjects into a program that addresses contemporary issues for practitioner of business continuity and related disciplines.

Key themes to be covered at the 2011 Summit include:

- > Case studies of organisations disrupted by recent natural disasters in Christchurch and Queensland
- > How Qantas responded to a serious incident affecting its A380 fleet
- > Seeing an incident through the eyes of the media to help your organisation protect its reputation
- > Updates on Organisational Resilience from academics and practitioners
- > Experiences on the practical application of business continuity software applications by end users
- > Implementing business continuity practices in organisations during a time of significant change
- > How emerging technologies are affecting business continuity
- > Practical workshops demonstrating how to conduct effective Scenario Exercises or Business Impact Analysis

Continuity Forum is an active network of organisations that share an interest in seeing that their business continuity and disaster recovery plans are resilient and continually reviewed. Our mission is "sharing knowledge, experience and promoting best practice in business continuity and disaster recovery planning". Among other things, we hold networking events in all the main cities Australia and in New Zealand.

We have over 180 member organisations including government departments and blue-chip companies in the banking, transport, utilities, health care, telecommunications and retail industries.

Benefits of Continuity Forum membership include Member & Specialist Meetings, Conferences & Training, Resources, Surveys and Benchmarking and Member Support.

MINI WORKSHOPSNEW

The Summit will feature two mini workshops that will run for 90 minutes each. These workshops are scheduled as part of the conference program and will be held on the first day. Delegates have a choice between the two for their attendance and participation at these interactive sessions.

Effective Business Impact Analysis

This interactive session is aimed at BC practitioners who are seeking real life practical examples and details of lessons learnt during the development of a range of complex and challenging BIA projects. Topics covered will include preparation and planning, data collection and reporting. The workshop will focus on an Australian case study company and include an example Excel BIA data collection worksheet to guide discussions.

Facilitator. Paul Trebilcock, Director, JBT Global

Running a scenario exercise

Delegates can participate in a facilitated crisis management exercise to experience the challenges and techniques for developing and delivering a successful exercise in their own organisations.

This interactive mini-workshop provides an entertaining and practical demonstration of a sample scenario exercise. It explains methods for planning, conducting and debriefing an exercise, to achieve an effective learning outcome.

Facilitator. Dan Ruming, Director, Fulcrum Risk Services

SPONSOR PRESENTATIONBCM Software – stress or success?

Ian Crabb,
Business Continuity Specialist,
ClearView Continuity

ClearView recognises the fast-growing use of Mobile Devices and the important role they play in managing activity from remote locations.

ClearView BCM software has been developed so that plans and key information can be accessed and managed through mobile devices in support of core communications processes.

With this in mind, we are delighted to offer the recently launched 3G iPad 2 as a draw prize at the Australasian Business Continuity Summit. The iPad has quickly become one of the most desirable and accessed devices for a whole range of applications and the recently launched ultra-slim iPad 2 with 3G Internet access plus wi-fi capability, an impressive 64Mb memory and access to a vast array of functions, is a 'must have' device for executives on the move.

The draw will be made on the second day of the Summit. Entry is by business card drop at our stand or you can pre-register for the draw through our web site at www.clearview-continuity.com/ipad
